Dear Sir,

Greetings of the day!

EARTH N POTS is a budding organization doing its part towards green, clean and healthy environment. We believe that plants are the perfect way to show someone you are thinking of them. Giving a live plant communicates so much you care about their health, their happiness and the planet you both share. Considering living potted plants is one of the most responsible way of gifting

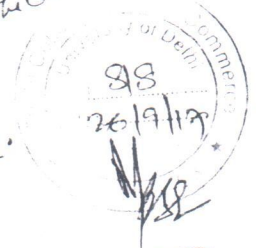

Our plants come in attractive planters with your personalized messages and logos adding to your brand visibility and goodwill. In comparison of fancy and expensive bouquets Earth n Pots, potted plants are way more ecological and economical way of gifting.

We truly believe that you being the most responsible educational institution would welcome the practice of offering potted plants instead of dead bouquets and pave the way for others and become the torch bearer of this green initiative.

Regards

Team Earth n Pots
