

Contributors

Abhishek Srivastav is currently pursuing PhD at the University of Lucknow. A researcher in the field of finance, he has cleared the UGC NET-JRF.

Adarsh Mishra is a PhD scholar in the field of finance at the University of Lucknow. He has made presentations at prestigious conferences including at NPGC, and the University of Lucknow.

Akhilesh Kumar is an Assistant Professor at the Department of English at SGTB Khalsa College, University of Delhi. His areas of interest include post-colonial literature, translation theory and women's writing. Recently his translation of Doosri Parampara Ki Khoj by Namwar Singh has been published by Sahitya Akademi. He has published a research paper on Munshi Premchand's Rangbhoomi in Indian Literature, a journal brought out by Sahitya Akademi. His research paper on Rabindranath Tagore and Bankim Chandra Chatterjee was published by Indian Institute of Advanced Study, Shimla.

Amalendhu P. Ramesh is a research scholar of English Literature, EFLU, Hyderabad. The focus area of her research is rape culture and rape narratives. She did her master's in English and Comparative Literatures from Pondicherry University and bachelor's in Functional English from SKVC, Thrissur. She has previously presented and published papers on gender, cinema and literature in various national and international seminars.

Anga Padu is an Associate Professor at the Department of Education, Rajiv Gandhi University, Arunachal Pradesh. Her research interests include sociological foundations of education, history of education, women and child and tribal education. She has co-authored one book, co-edited four books, completed two ICSSR sponsored minor research projects, published more than twenty-five research articles in various international and national journals.

Anil Kumar, Associate Professor at Shyam Lal College(E), University of Delhi, holds a PhD degree from Himachal Pradesh University. He has published several research papers in national and international journals.

Anjali Rai is a Senior Research Fellow at the Department of Commerce, University of Lucknow. She received a bachelor's degree in Commerce from the National Post Graduate College and a master's degree in Commerce from the University of Lucknow. Her current research is concerned with the impact of remote working and her area of specialization is Human Resource Management.

Audhesh Kumar is a Professor of Commerce at the University of Lucknow and an expert in the field of accounting and finance. With extensive publications, he previously headed the Commerce Department of the University of Lucknow, and now serves as Dean at CDC, guiding professionals.

Bharat Bhatt is an Associate Professor in the Department of Commerce at Zakir Hussain Delhi College, University of Delhi. He has contributed research papers to both national and international journals.

Bhupinder, an Associate Professor at Delhi College of Arts and Commerce, University of Delhi, has been contributing to the academic field since July 2005. Holding an M. Phil from Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla, and a postgraduate degree from Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, he specializes in Financial Accounting. Lt. Bhupinder, a commissioned officer in NCC with the rank of Lieutenant since 23-03-2015, has authored five books in his field and published numerous articles in national and international journals.

Bir Singh is an Associate Professor in the Department of Economics, DCAC, University of Delhi. He holds a PhD in Economics from the Jawaharlal Nehru University. He has taught for over sixteen years and his research interests lie in the fields of Development Economics, Labour Economics and Political Economy. He has published work in reputed National and International journals such as Labour & Development, Springer's International Journal of Economic Policy Studies etc. Amongst his recent publications is the 2023 book titled India's Informal Economy: Contractual Labour in the Formal Manufacturing Sector, published by Routledge, London. (Author's ORCID: 0000-0002-9138-303X).

Bommuluri Bhavana Rao is an Assistant Professor in Law at UPES School of Law, Dehradun. Her areas of research are International Law, Trade, Gender and Criminal Law. She is an alumna of the University of Delhi and the Indian Law Institute. She has written 3 books and over 30 papers on general laws and more specifically on Gender and Human Rights and holds a PhD in the area of CEDAW and WTO.

Jyoti Raghavan is working as an Associate Professor in the Department of Journalism at Kamala Nehru College, University of Delhi. She was awarded the British Chevening Scholarship to do her master's in Mass Communications from the University of Leicester, UK. She has a Post-Graduate diploma in Advertising and Public Relations from the Indian Institute of Mass Communication, New Delhi. She has a PhD in Sociology from Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU). She has also worked as a journalist in UNI, a news anchor on Doordarshan and All India Radio, and has produced documentary features for the broadcast media.

Kanwal Jeet Singh is an Associate Professor at Ramanujan College, University of Delhi. He holds MCom, MBA, MPhil, and PhD degrees from Kurukshetra University. A UGC Net Qualified scholar, he served as Principal Investigator for the research project "Awareness of Consumer Rights in Contemporary India." He has published a number of papers in ABDC C Category, UGC Care-listed, Scopus-indexed, and peer-reviewed journals.

Manisha Joshi is a Research Scholar in the Department of Commerce, University of Lucknow. She completed her bachelor's and master's in Commerce from the University of Lucknow. Her research interests lie in topics relating to Green Banking, Green Finance and Sustainability. She has taught Undergraduate and Post Graduate students at Vidyant Hindu P.G. College, University of Lucknow.

Mohd. Hanif is a Professor in the Department of Commerce, Vidyant Hindu P.G. College, Lucknow. His expertise encompasses a diverse range of subjects including Income Tax, Corporate Accounting, Financial Accounting, and Cost and Management Accounting. He has published research papers in national and international research journals, as well as chapters in edited books.

Mousumi Patra is an Assistant Professor of English at Shaheed Bhagat Singh Evening College, University of Delhi. Her doctoral thesis examines the representation of tribal people and culture in the novels of Gopinath Mohanty. Her research interests include tribal studies, translation, and postcolonial fiction.

Mumdam Saring is presently pursuing PhD at the Department of Education, Rajiv Gandhi University, Arunachal Pradesh. She is a recipient of UGC-NET Junior Research Fellowship. Her research interests focus on sociological foundations of education, psychological foundations of education and teacher education. She has contributed a chapter to an edited book and published research articles in international journals.

Nidhi Mishra is a Senior Research Fellow at the Department of Commerce, University of Lucknow. She received her bachelor's and master's degrees in Commerce from the CSJM University, Kanpur. Her current research is concerned with the impact of digitalization on public sector banks and her area of specialization is Finance. (Author's ORCID: 0009-0005-2319-9555)

Rishabh Kumar is a Senior Research Fellow at the Department of Commerce, University of Lucknow. His primary areas of research encompass behavioural finance, financial markets, and financial derivatives. Over the course of his academic journey, he has contributed numerous articles to esteemed journals listed under UGC CARE and ABDC. His proficiency in analytical and research tools is reflected through his adeptness with software applications like AMOS, Smart-PLS, VosViewer, SPSS, and Jasp. (Author's ORCID: 0000-0002-3029-2281)

Ritul Aryan is a law graduate (B.A., LL.B.) from Chanakya National Law University, Patna. He is currently pursuing his LL.M. in Criminal Law specialisation from Chanakya National Law University. He has qualified for UGC Junior Research Fellowship.

Robin Singhal is an Assistant Professor of Economics at the School of Liberal Studies, Dr. B. R. Ambedkar University, Delhi. His research interests lie in the areas of Energy Economics, Environmental and Resource Economics and Economics of Infrastructure. Apart from contributing articles in reputed journals like the Journal of Industrial Statistics and Yojana of different Ministries of the Government of India, he has also published in Scopus-indexed journals like the Indian Journal of Economics & Development. His recent contributions include a co-edited book titled Sustainable Development Insights from India, published by Springer, Singapore.

Shweta Raj, an Assistant Professor at Kalindi College, University of Delhi, holds a postgraduate degree from Punjabi University, Patiala. She has contributed significantly to the field of Commerce, publishing numerous articles in national and international journals.

Sonali Jaiswal, a UGC JRF awardee, is currently pursuing PhD in the field of commerce at the University of Lucknow.

Srinivas Misra is an Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Science, Shyam Lal College, University of Delhi. He did his bachelor's and master's from Berhampur University, Odisha and obtained a PhD degree from Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi.

T. Gopal Krishna Yadab teaches at the Department of Political Science, DCAC, University of Delhi. He did his Masters in Political Science from Berhampur University, Odisha. Dr. Gopal Krishna received his M.Phil and Ph.D degrees from JNU, New Delhi. His core research area includes Central Asian Studies and International Relations.

Uplabdhii Sangwan has taught at the English departments of various constituent colleges affiliated with the University of Delhi. Her doctoral dissertation examines the interplay of American imperialistic influences and the principles of neoliberal ideology. She has authored articles published in both national and international scholarly journals. Her areas of interest include women's writings, novels in the late 20th and early 21st centuries, and gender studies.

Vikas Shukla is a PhD scholar at the University of Lucknow and presented a paper at an international conference held at the university.