To whomsoever it may concern,

Anushka Vats has been an outstanding performer at The Jurni's Young Professionals Program. She's shown good organisational and time-management skills and has been able to creatively market the newsletter. She worked with The Jurni in the month of December 2021

Considering the uncertainty of a global pandemic, we could see from the very beginning that she took up her tasks with full enthusiasm and was also able to follow through with the programme well, proving that Anushka can deliver great results even in an uncertain context.

As per Anushka's engagement she was able to analyse the readership of the newsletter and then went on to target specific audiences. For content creation, she stood out from the crowd in displaying excellent social media involvement. We believe one of her biggest assets was her ability to voice her thoughts in a well-crafted manner.

I believe that Anushka would be an asset to have onboard, as she brings a tremendous amount of energy and passion to whatever she pursues.

To celebrate the Republic Day of India, the society organised three games based on Word Search, Scribble, and Crossword on 29 January 2022, under the title, ‘Play for Eco’. 15 applications were received.

On 7 June 2022, an online training program of the Delhi Jal Board was hosted by Water Digest. Under the guidance of Ms. Reeva Sood, an eminent sociologist and expert in herbal gardening, also a member of Governing Body of the College, the project Agri- Tourism was initiated. Its Orientation program was held on 6th June and was attended by the volunteers of Prakriti. 45+ registrations were recorded.

48kg waste cleared from Yamuna bank

Times News Network

New Delhi: A group of volunteers collected and segregated 48 kg waste from the Yamuna bank on Friday. The group called 'There is no Earth II' claims to have cleared about 18 tonnes of non-biodegradable waste from different parts of Delhi in the past three years. It has conducted 222 clean-up drives in the city so far, said one of the volunteers.

The group, which has members from diverse fields, including doctors, engineers, students and retired people, and different age groups, organised the clean-up drive in association with Delhi College of Art and Commerce (DCAC) and collected 38 kg non-biodegradable waste. "Below the ground, we used to organise three-four such clean-up drives in a week, but now we are doing just two per week. At the Yamuna bank, we segregated waste at the spot. The non-plastic waste will go to municipal while the plastic waste to Hazard Pollution Control Board,"

A VOLUNTEER SAYS

During the lockdown, we saw how the shutting of industries led to a cleaner Yamuna. We need stringent standards for the treatment of industrial effluents that are dumped into the river.

It was," said Dhruv Yadav, one of the volunteers who took part in the clean-up drive.

He added, "During the lockdown, we saw how the shutting of industries led to a cleaner Yamuna. We need stringent standards for the treatment of industrial effluents that are indiscriminately dumped into the river."

Tinay Singh, a student of DCAC, said, "The act of cleaning the Yamuna bank was insignificant in general seeing to the amount of waste that is thrown into the river. But we are happy that we could do at least something about it."

✓ Clicks – The Photography Society

CLICKS, established in 2010 by two shutterbugs, Laveesh and Rudransh. Their aim of creating a space for photography lovers has brought more than 60 people together and now we call it our CLICKS family. It was initiated to build a platform where all the photogs could come and share their own unique and creative ideas of photography. Every year, the society organizes multiple photowalks, trips, and workshops/sessions to embolden learning with fun. Clicks has had the pleasure to get featured as one of the top 5 photography societies of Delhi University on popular media platforms like SoDelhi and DU Express.

• PHOTOWALKS

3 photowalks were conducted in the year 2021:

1. 31st August 2021- Bhuli Bhatiyari/Central Ridge Reserve Forest
2. 26th October 2021- Jamali Kamali Fort
3. 7th November 2021- Tughlaqabad Fort

Last Photowalk of the year 2021 at Tughlaqabad Fort was a Photowalk-cum-workshop with Mr.Ashutosh Bindra, a Delhi-based travel/portrait Photographer, and a Cinematographer. It was a very insightful and inspiring session. These photowalks witnessed 20+ participants each time.

• TRIP

Clicks organized a truly indelible trip to Manali, Himachal Pradesh in October 2021. During the Bhrigu Lake Trek, the members had a chance to practice their skills at various types of photography like street, landscape, and travel. It was a way of reconnecting with nature in these difficult times. It proved to be a healthy and peaceful break from the digitally struck lives. 25 members reaped the benefits from the trip.
