December 3, 2018

Respected Sir/Madam,

A unique initiative of online professional development of in-service teachers' of higher education, using MOOCs platform SWAYAM-Annual Refresher Programme in Teaching (ARPIT) was launched by MHRD on 13th November, 2018. The ARPIT is 40 hour programme with 20 hours of video content offered in a highly flexible format which can be done at one's own pace and time. The programme has built-in assessment exercises and activities as part of the academic progression in the course. At the end of the course, there is a provision for terminal assessment which can be either online or written examination.

It has been decided by the UGC that successful completion of the courses offered under the ARPIT programme with 40 hour of instruction material with a proctored examination will be treated as equivalent to one Refresher Course for the purposes of Career Advancement.

This is for the information of all universities and colleges.

With regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Rajnish Jain)

Workshop organised by Dept. of Economics, DCAC "From Data to Insights"

From data to Insights: A hands-on training program was organised and conducted by the Economics Department of DCAC from 14th October to 17th October 2020, open to all students of the college. The workshop focused on data visualization using Excel and Latex (an open-source effective documentation software).

The course was divided into four modules each of which taught by the following faculty members: Dr. Arun Kumar, Dr. Shalini Saksena, Dr. Navneet Manchanda and Dr. Bir Singh.

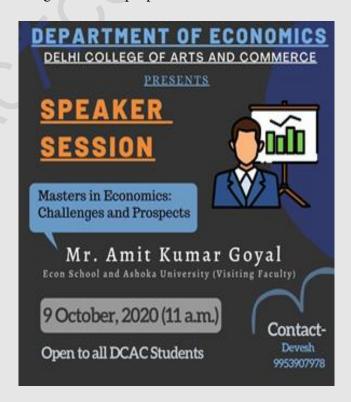

Students were exposed to various free institutional data repositories like RBI, MoSPI, WDI etc. They were taught how to extract and clean the data in Excel. Students got their hands-on real-time visualization of cross-sectional data and temporal visualizations with spreadsheets. After each module students were given individual assignments to track their progress. In the last module, students were introduced to Latex, an effective tool for documentation, where they had to compile all the learnings of the previous modules and prepare a report on, "A Comparative Study of South Asian Economies: Focused on differences in Healthcare outcomes of India and Bangladesh". They had to evaluate India's performance across various development and economic indicators vis-a-vis her neighbours using data from World Development Indicators. It was an extremely enriching and exciting session for all the students.

October 9th, 2020: Speaker Session-Masters in Economics: Challenges and Prospects

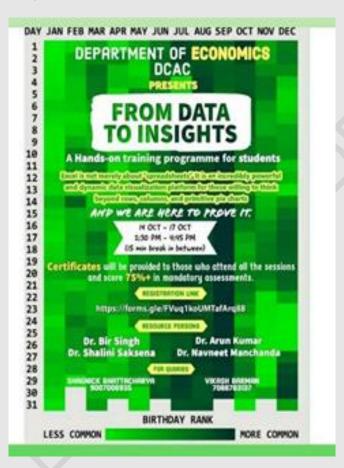

A speaker session on the topic - Masters in Economics: Challenges and Prospects was conducted by Ecolibrium: The Economics Department of Delhi College of Arts and Commerce. The resource person was Mr. Amit Kumar Goel who is a professor at Ashoka University (visiting faculty) and also has his own educational platform, namely Econschool.

The session was very enlightening for students who were looking for post graduate courses in Economics. Different colleges and universities that offer programs in masters in economics were discussed. Mr. Amit guided the students regarding the preparation for entrances for many of such institutes including DSE, ISI, IGIDR, JNU etc. He told us the books and websites to refer for the said preparation. Sir also talked about the further prospects for fields related to Economics like finance and data analysis. It was an interactive session where students asked various questions and sir answered them. The session was open to all students of DCAC. The speaker session was very enriching and provided the interested students a very useful insight into the preparation for masters in economics.

October 14-17, 2020: Workshop- From Data to Insights

From data to Insights: A hands-on training program was conducted by Ecolibrium: The Economics Department of DCAC from 14th October to 17th October 2020. The workshop was focused on data visualization using Excel and Latex (an open source effective documentation software).

The course was divided into four modules each of which taught by the following faculty members: Dr. Arun Kumar, Dr. Shalini Saksena, Dr. Navneet Manchanda and Dr. Bir Singh.

Students were exposed to various free institutional data repositories like RBI, MoSPI, WDI etc. They were taught how to extract and clean the data in Excel. Students got their handson real-time visualization of cross-sectional data and temporal visualizations with spreadsheets. After each module students were given individual assignments to track their progress. In the last module, students were introduced to Latex, an effective tool for documentation, where they had to compile all the learnings of the previous modules and prepare a report on, "A Comparative Study of South Asian Economies: Focused on differences in Healthcare outcomes of India and Bangladesh". They had to evaluate India's performance across various development and economic indicators vis-a-vis her neighbours using data from World Development Indicators. It was an extremely enriching and exciting session for all the students.

October 21st, 2020: Interactive Session: Insights IAS

Insights IAS: An interactive session with IAS officers, was conducted by the Department of Economics in collaboration with IQAC on 21st October 2020, 11 am onwards. The Google meet session was attended by the students and faculty members of the Economics department. The event was graced by our alumni, Mr. Shubham Gupta (Assistant Collector, Nashik, Maharashtra) and Mr. Suraj Shaji (Assistant Collector, Idukki, Kerala) who cleared UPSC in 2019. They shed light on their journey from DCAC to Civil services and shared their views on what is the best way to prepare for UPSC.

UPSC is a long and arduous journey which requires patience and proper guidance. Queries related to preparation strategies, pattern of UPSC, choosing the right optional paper, coping up with stress, best resources for the exam, importance of coaching centres, role of civil servants and challenges faced by IAS officers were addressed. The speakers stressed on the importance of a backup plan, considering the uncertainty and intense competition among the UPSC aspirants. The questions were posted on the chat box and the moderators ensured that the questions were answered by the speakers and hence facilitated an interactive session.

October 25th, 2020: Poster Making Competition

The Poster Making Competition was organized by the Department of Economics and was open to all students of all colleges.

The given topics were: Impact of COVID-19 on mental health, NY Climate Clock, and Digital Divide in India. Over 10 students participated in the competition and the results were declared two weeks after submissions were accepted. The winning posters are going to be published in the department's newsletter.

The winners- Swetarupa Mishra, Amrita and Mohd. Sibtain Kadri were provided with ecertificates for their excellent performance.

The purpose of the competition was to create awareness about the current problems in the world and to present them in a way that was clear and concise and showed the gravity of the situation accurately. The participants used their creativity to create posters that were both informative and eye-catching.

November 2020: Article Writing Competition

Article writing competition was organized by the Department of Economics and was open to all students of all colleges. The competition was conducted between: 12th-30th October

The given topics were: First Economic Contraction in Last 4 Decades, Online Classes and its digital divide, Farms Bill Act 2020 and Where is Indian Journalism Headed.

Around 20 Students Participated from different colleges. The winners were: Navneet Kaur, Anwesha Das and Moksha Sethi. They received E-certificates for their excellent performance.

The articles of all the 3 winners will be published in our annual newsletter and all the participants received an E-participation certificate.

The purpose of the competition was to create awareness about the current scenario in the world and to present them in a way that was clear and concise and showed the gravity of the situation accurately. The participants used their creativity to write articles that were informative and riveting.

Foreign Direct Investment Inflow and Its Effect on Economy of India

Dr. Neeraj & Neha Agarwal

Abstract

Indian economy is currently part of the 100 club on Ease of Doing Business and this is done for the country economic development by the way of attracting more overseas funds and this strategy is is playing an important role in the encouragement of foreign and overseas investors. Since 2014, it has emerged as of the one top foreign destination in the world with a significant rise in FDI. . The purpose of this paper is to examine the Total Inflow of FDI in India in form of equity and it also determines top investor Countries in India. The Paper also aims to look at different aspects of FDI (positive and negative eeffect of FDI in the process of economic growth and social welfare in developing countries like India) spill over in the country. This paper is based upon secondary data analysis of the inflow of FDI in India during the period 2000-2018; the study shows the trends in the aggregate inflow of FDI in India during 2000-2001 and 2017-18. This paper concludes that share of FDI from Singapore is highest (37.77%) during 2018-19 and after refinement of investment policy Indian economy received the maximum FDI (Rs. 291,696 crores) during 2016-17. Paper also highlights that biggest beneficiary of this would be small farmers, who would be able to improve productivity and realize higher remuneration by selling directly to large organized players and shorten the chain from farm to consumers. In fact, FDI provides a win - win situation to the host and the home countries if government policy supports the required infrastructure and favourable conditions for investors by controlling bad cholesterol.

France, Greece, Iceland, Poland, Slovak Republic, Switzerland and Turkey also have a positive record investments. As per UNCTAD's World Investment Report 2019, Global foreign direct (FDI) flows slid by 13% in 2018, to US$ 1.3 trillion from $1.5 trillion the previous year-the third consecutive annual decline. Despite the FDI decline, the United States remained the largest recipient of FDI, followed by China, Hong-Kong and Singapore during 2018-19. In terms of outward investors, Japan became the largest followed by China and France. Singh et.al (2012) explains that one of the significant contributions of globalization in the past is the growing and spreading FDI amongst the countries, contributing significantly to positive effects on the labour productivity of domestic firms. The Industrial policy 1991 had crafted a trajectory of change whereby every sectors of Indian economy at one point of time or the other would be embraced by liberalization, privatization and globalization due to that foreign investment have been flowing into the economy.In 1997, FDI in cash and carry (wholesale) with 100 percent ownership was allowed under the Government approval route. It was brought under the automatic route in 2006. The Indian economy is currently part of the 100 club on Ease of Doing Business and globally ranked first in Greenfield FDI ranking, Iqbal (2007) point out that India has emerged as major recipient of FDI in South Asia. It is a resourceful country having an adequate market for both capital and consumer goods. As per Singh (2009) large amount of natural resources in the country as well as excellent market surroundings provide a platform for investments. Gori (2015) explains that the liberalization phase in Indian economy has paid rich dividends to the country. Foreign countries are eager to invest in India in order to take advantage of lower wages, tax exemption etc. This has generated employment and has helped the economy in upgrading the higher and better technology. A favourable investor friendly policy regime with robust business environment has ensured regular and smoother flow of foreign flow into the country. Heckscher-Ohlin-Samuelson model suggests that FDI and international trade can be substitutes under assumption that labour and capital can move freely between countries and no transportation cost apply. This suggests for indirect linkage between international trade and exchange production factor between the two as explained by Liu (2002). Most of the emerging economies and those in transition phase view FDI as an important source of financing

So, from the above facts it is clear that Investment, or creation of capital, is an essential component of economic growth of a country. In general, the investment may lead to the creation of physical capital goods, finance, and human capital. In grouping with other factors of production and technology, investment determines the levels and growth hugh changes in production in production and consumption of goods and services. Investments consist of foreign investment and domestic investment. Foreign investment basically includes two spectrums - funds and technological

Dear Sir

I must congratulate you and the entire team of the Academic Affairs Committee of your college, on putting together an extremely useful Faculty Training Progr. Challenges of Google Suite in Teaching and Learning", held between August, 21st to August 28th 2020.

On behalf of my colleague Dr. Smita Banerjee and myself, I request you to kindly provide us a Certificate / Letter of Participation in the Faculty Training Progra Akansha Gupta from the Computer Science Department of your college. however, she replied stating that no such arrangement is in place.

I am sure you are aware of how important maintaining a record of all academic related activities is. Just like you at your end will maintain a record of this FTP a collated for NAAC and other such assessment reports, we also as attendees of the FTP need to keep a record of participation. We hope you understand and a instruct the concerned person to issue us certificates/letters of participation.

Thanks and regards,

Dear Shalini Saksena.

On behalf of the Indian Economic Review, I cordially invite you to a Public Lecture by Melissa Dell (Harvard University) on Persistence and Transformation in Economic Development. The event will be chaired by Kaushik Basu (Cornell University).

The event will take place on Zoom. Please click here to register.

Abstract

Research on the persistent determinants of economic development has transformed economic history over the past fifteen years. It has inspired the integration of modern empirical and computational methods with the study of historical data and has contributed to the expansion of economics beyond its U.S./European-focused roots. Insights from this literature moreover have the potential to inform economic policy, by elucidating how policy interacts with the broader context and how effects unfold over time. This lecture will discuss insights on persistence and transformation in economic development gleaned over the past decade and will consider promising directions for future research.

Kindly refer to the poster for details of the programme.

Persistence and Transformation in Economic Development on June 10, 2021 (Thursday)

at 6:30 pm IST / 9:00 am EDT / 1:00 pm UTC / 9:00 pm HKT

Chair: Kaushik Basu

Professor of Economics and Carl Marks Professor of International Studies, Cornell University

Professor Dell is the Andrew E. Furer Professor of Economics at Harvard University, and the recipient of the John Bates Clark Medal in 2020. In 2018, The Economist named her one of the decade's eight best young economists, and in 2014 she was named by the IMF as the  $\,$ youngest of 25 economists under the age of 45 shaping thought about the global economy. Her research on historical institutions and their persistent impact on economic outcomes today has been enormously influential. This work ranges across many questions and continents: from forced labour and its impacts in Peru and Indonesia, to land reform in Mexico, and state capacity in North and South Vietnam. Her work is marked by empirical rigour, theoretical depth, and contextual subtlety. Her many other well-known papers include ones on the drug trade in Mexico, U.S. military strategies in Vietnam, and the effects of weather on economic growth. She is also working on using methods in computer vision and natural language processing in order to digitize and interpret large volumes of historical data.

Dear Sir,

I, on behalf of the Department of English, would like to thank you for delivering a very thoughtful and engaging talk as our guest speaker on "Approaching Indian Classical Literature" held on 19th December, 2020 on Google Meet. I must admit that the overwhelming responses that we have received from our participants indicate the hard work you have put in to make the presentation at the webinar a grand success.

I believe our participants must have learnt a lot from your erudite presentation.

I know your time is precious and I am grateful that you shared some of it with us. I look forward to your participation in future events.

Thank you once again.

The 8th General Assembly of Silk-Road Universities Network at the campus of the Canadian University Dubai in U.A.E. from February 13 ~ 15, 2023

Date: January 5th, 2023.

To: Professor D.A.P. Sharma

Re: A Cordial Invitation to the 8th General Assembly of SUN

Dear, Professor D.A.P. Sharma

We are pleased to inform you that the 8th General Assembly (GA) of the Silk-Road Universities Network (SUN) will be held from February 13 - 15, 2023 in Dubai, United Arab Emirates. The main theme of this GA is "The Roles of Universities in the Era of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Big Data (BD): Challenges and Opportunities." We would like to extend our cordial invitation for you as the [] to join us as a guest of the main host, Canadian University Dubai (CUD). Your participation will include complimentary round-trip air travel for one person, hotel room, meals during the event, and domestic transportation.

As the General Assembly is being held during a busy tourist season in the U.A.E., it is requested that you RSVP your participation within a maximum of 5 days from receiving this invite, to guarantee your travel arrangements and accommodation. Whilst confirming your attendance, please ensure you email your passport copy and the completed response form to the organizing committee.

Under the leadership of CUD President and Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Karim Chelli, we sincerely hope to host this year's GA in-person. We want participants to discover and learn about the diverse culture and distinct history of Dubai, which will be ongoing during the GA. We will do our utmost to make the GA a successful and enjoyable event, overcoming the limitations of an online format.

Thank you in advance for your active participation and continuous support for SUN.

Looking forward to meeting you again soon.

Best regards,

Dear Sir

Under the Student Leadership and Life Skills Development Initiative BHU, the Creativity Club, MMV will organize a two-day workshop on creative writing from 04 and 05 February 2023. The purpose of such a Workshop session is to make students aware of the theoretical aspects of creative writing and introduce them to the context and environment in which the act of writing happens.

It is my great pleasure to invite you as a resource person to take one session. I do hope that you can make time in your busy schedule to accept my invitation and share your ideas on this topic.

Topic: Discussing theoretical aspects of creative writing and its application

Date 4 Feb

Timing 3 pm-5 pm

With deepest regard Yours sincerely

Dr. Dhiraj Kumar Assistant professor of Sociology & Mentor, Creativity Club MMV_BHU
